

ASMC Newsletter . . . Mount Vernon Chapter

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By COL Bill Antley

Now that January is behind us we look forward to a year that should prove to be quite interesting, if not exciting. Particularly since this is an election year. It will be interesting to see how our budgets will be affected by the political maneuverings as politicians attempt to sway voters into their political camps.

Speaking of elections, the Mount Vernon Chapter membership will also be asked to vote for new directors on the Chapter Executive Committee (CEC). It is my desire to have candidates selected by the PDD scheduled for 13 April, followed by elections during the May luncheon. My intent is to have the new directors selected prior to the May 04 PDI at Cleveland, Ohio. With the new directors taking over the reigns in June, the incoming directors can take advantage PDI seminars oriented to chapter management. This said, if you are interested in serving as a CEC director please contact Edna Plancon to put your name on the ballot. Serving on the CEC requires your time and effort to make the Mt Vernon Chapter be all it can be. The chapter membership depends on the CEC directors to keep them informed and facilitate furthering professional development. Please consider serving on the CEC. It's not only important to your fellow members, but it will be a rewarding and enriching experience. Feel free to ask any of the current officers about their responsibilities and the rewards that come from active leadership. Your chapter needs YOU!

Again, the PDD is scheduled for 13 April, so please mark this date on your calendar. This all-day-event will take place at the Springfield Hilton. Pat Ackerman has done a lot of planning and coordinating to ensure this year's PDD is first class. The scheduled speakers will be engaging and providing pertinent information relative to today's resource management environment. You will see more information coming out on this shortly. Again, take the time to join us for a great time on 13 April. Who knows, you might learn something.

Chapter Fair

Cleveland, nestled on the shores of Lake Erie and known worldwide as the home of the Rock-n-Roll Hall of Fame and Museum is a city on the rise. Cleveland is home to cultural treasures like the Botanical Gardens, the African-American Museum and the Great Lakes Science Center as well as international treasures, which include the Cleveland Museum of Natural History and the Cleveland Museum of Art. The city also has its fair share of professional sports teams as well as a host of driving ranges and golf courses. The Rock-n-Roll Hall of Fame and Museum is dedicated to recording the history of some of the best-known and most influential rock and roll performers, producers and others who have in some major way influenced the industry. The museum displays costumes, record albums, handwritten song lyrics, videos and memorabilia highlighting artists each in their own section. "Rockin' through Time" is the theme of the PDI '04 Chapter Fair, which will be held on Thursday, June 3, 2004 and will spotlight the music icons of past and present. The room will be divided into four decades of music (the 50's, the 60's, the 70's, and the 80's) with the chapters planning booth decorations and activities centered on their chosen decade and overall theme. Again this year, prizes will be awarded to three outstanding booths. The booths and costumes will be judged on creativity, adherence to chosen decade, and prizes will be awarded accordingly. In keeping with past PDI traditions, there will be a Karaoke contest, music & dancing, and many more surprises. So pull out those poodle skirts, tie-dyed shirts, bellbottoms, disco balls and big hair for a rockin' good time. Rock-n-Roll is here to stay... in Cleveland!

Temporary Suspension of IPA Program

ASMC and the Department of Defense have temporarily suspended the opportunity for assignment to ASMC under the Interdepartmental Personnel Act (IPA). This program has served ASMC and DoD well for several years. Over that period of time nine members of the DoD have served on the ASMC staff. We believe that ASMC and the DoD have benefited from this interaction. Because of increasing workload on all members of the DoD and growth of the ASMC staff it is prudent to suspend this program at this time"

This firm, which specializes in non-profit organizations, has issued an unqualified opinion "that the financial records of ASMC present fairly in all material aspects, the financial position of the American Society of Military Comptrollers." The audit will be posted to the website.

CERTIFIED DEFENSE FINANCIAL MANAGER (CDFM) PAGE

Are you looking for ways to self-study for the CDFM exams? If so, listed below are some recommended self-study options:

Self Study

This self study tool encompasses all of the reference material used in writing questions for the Certified Defense Financial Manager examination. For your convenience, it is organized into three modules to parallel the structure of the exam. Most references are hyperlinked to actual source documents to save you time in locating study material. To further ease your work load, we cited pertinent sections of larger documents, such as the Financial Management Regulations. Still, you will find a significant amount of material you will need to review. Here are a few tips to help you get started.

- Begin your self study with the module you know the most about. This will increase your confidence and let you get used to the level of detail of the questions in an area where you feel most comfortable. Remember, most of us know a lot about two or three of the areas already. Capitalize on what you already know!
- Read all of the narrative material in the Reference Guide. Much of it was prepared by the subject matter experts who wrote the more than 900 questions in the item bank. Reading this material closely will give you a good idea of what experts feel a certified financial manager should know in a given area.
- Spend enough time. It's hard to tell sometimes how much time is required, but you will see certain subjects and references coming up many times throughout your review. You will know when you have a good grasp of the subject matter.
- If possible, talk to other people who participated in the Enhanced Financial Management Training Course, in group study, or who took some or all of the CDFM. They can help by giving you an idea of how much you need to review.

Self Study Components

DoD Financial Regulations

In addition to specific official documented references (these are the source documents for the examination questions), other supplemental study material is recommended. As you work through the different competency areas, you will find the majority of references are already somewhat familiar to you. Most prevalent are the DoD Financial Regulations...better known as FMR. Since these references are extensive, we list here the chapters for you to concentrate on as you prepare. Don't forget to review Volume 1 of the FMR for definitions. The FMR's are all downloadable free from the web at <http://www.dtic.mil/comptroller/fmr>.

OMB Circulars

Another common reference is the OMB circular. These are also easy to download by going to <http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/circulars/index.html>. All of the original legal citations from 10 US Code and 31 US Code are available through the fiscal law section - or by going directly to <http://uscode.house.gov>. Simply enter the title (i.e., Title 10 or Title 31) and section number - and the search engine will provide the text almost instantly.

DoD Publications

All DoD publications, instructions, directives, manuals, etc., are available on the web at <http://www.dtic.mil/whs/directives>.

DoD "Greenbook"

The Fiscal Year 2003 budget and the DoD "Greenbook" are available at www.dod.mil/comptroller.

Army Cost Manual

Almost all study materials you will need to prepare for the test are easily accessible by computer - and are free! You will not need extensive study of Service specific regulations, directives and the like, because all of the questions are asked from a Departmental perspective. One exception is the Army Cost Manual, which covers common cost estimating topics and is readily available at <http://www.ceac.army.mil/ce/default.asp>

As you read through the three modules of the CDFM, we will introduce you to the twelve separate competency areas that comprise the examination. Each of these competencies has associated with them various tasks and knowledge. Scoring requirements for the exam are such that very few people will pass the three modules without study but, if you prepare conscientiously, the likelihood of success is high.

1. Federal appropriations law can be categorized into which three topical areas?
